1.- Conditions of use

These conditions govern the use of the website providing information concerned with the iDetecT4ALL Project. Please read the information provided carefully. By accessing this website and using the materials contained therein you agree that you have read and accepted, without reservation, these conditions. The Consortium reserves the right to deny, suspend, interrupt and/or cancel access or use, total or partial, of this web site to users or visitors who do not comply with this Legal Notice.

This website contains materials, such as articles, studies, news and project descriptions prepared by the Consortium for purely informative purposes. The Consortium hereby gives notices that these materials may be modified, developed or updated at any moment without prior notice.

2.- Intellectual and Industrial Property Rights

© 2008-2009 iDetecT4ALL Consortium. All rights reserved.

The entire content of this website, including, for merely illustrative purposes, texts, images, files, photographs, logos, graphics, trademarks, icons, colour combinations, or any other elements, its structure and design, the selection and form of presentation of the materials included therein, and the software, links and other audiovisual content, in addition to its graphic design and the source code required for its operation, access and use, are protected by intellectual and industrial property rights, held by Consortium or third parties, and it may not be understood that any such rights of use of said content are here transferred except as strictly necessary for the correct use of the website.

In particular, the reproduction, transformation, distribution, public communication, publication and in general any other form of use, by any means, of all or part of the contents of this website, and also of its design and the selection and form of presentation of the materials included therein are strictly prohibited. Such use may only be made with the express authorisation of the Consortium, and always with reference to the ownership of the Consortium members of said intellectual and industrial property rights.

The decompilation, disassembly, reverse engineering, sub-licensing or transmission by any means, translation or production of work derived from the computer programs required for the operation, access and use of this website and the services contained therein, and also any use made concerning all or part of said programs as described in the above paragraph are also prohibited. Users of the website must under all circumstances refrain from nullifying, altering, avoiding or manipulating any such protective devices or security systems as may be installed therein. Trademarks, commercial names and distinctive signs are the property of Consortium members, and access to the website in no way grants any rights over said trademarks, commercial names and/or distinctive signs.

3.- Hyperlinks

The hyperlinks contained within this website may lead the user to other websites and web pages managed by third parties, over which the Consortium exerts no form of control; Consortium members are not responsible for the contents or state of said websites or web pages, nor does any access thereto via this website imply that the Consortium recommends or approves of their contents.

4.- Modifications

In order to improve this website, the Consortium reserves the right, at any time, without prior notice and unilaterally, to modify, extend or temporarily suspend the presentation, configuration, technical specifications and services of this website.

It likewise reserves the right to modify at any time these conditions of use and also any other specific conditions.

5.- Waiver of liability

All individuals using this website do so on their own account and at their own risk. Consortium members, its partners, Clients, co-workers, employees and representatives shall not be held responsible for any errors or omissions to which the contents of this website might be subject, nor to those of any other content accessible thereby. Nor shall Consortium, its partners, Clients, co-workers, employees and representatives be held responsible for any damage arising from the use of this website, nor for any action taken on the basis of the information provided therein. Information in this website is provided without any manner of guarantee, either explicit or implicit, and may be changed or updated without prior warning.

The Consortium does not guarantee that it is free of viruses, worms or other damaging computer programs which could cause damage or otherwise affect the computer system, the electronic documents or the files of users of this website. Consequently, the Consortium cannot be held responsible for any damage which might be caused by such elements to the user or to third parties. The company likewise accepts no responsibility for, nor does it guarantee the availability and continuity of, access to this website, or that the website is free of errors. In all cases, the user of the website is under the obligation to have access to adequate tools in order to detect and disinfect any damaging or harmful computer programs.

The user shall be liable for any manner of damage suffered by the Consortium or any Consortium member as a result of any failure to comply with the obligations inherent in these conditions of use. The user is aware of, and voluntarily accepts, that the use of any of the contents of this website occurs in all cases under his or her sole and exclusive responsibility.

6.- Governing Law and Jurisdiction.

These conditions of use are subject in each and every one of their particulars to Spanish legislation and any matters of litigation which may arise from the interpretation, implementation and execution of the use of the website shall be heard by the Judges and Courts of the City of Madrid.
